

JNIESTR'S
SMT. INDIRA GANDHI COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING
GHANSOLI, NAVI MUMBAI

AUTONOMOUS & NAAC 'A' GRADE ACCREDITATION
GHANSOLI, NAVI MUMBAI 400701

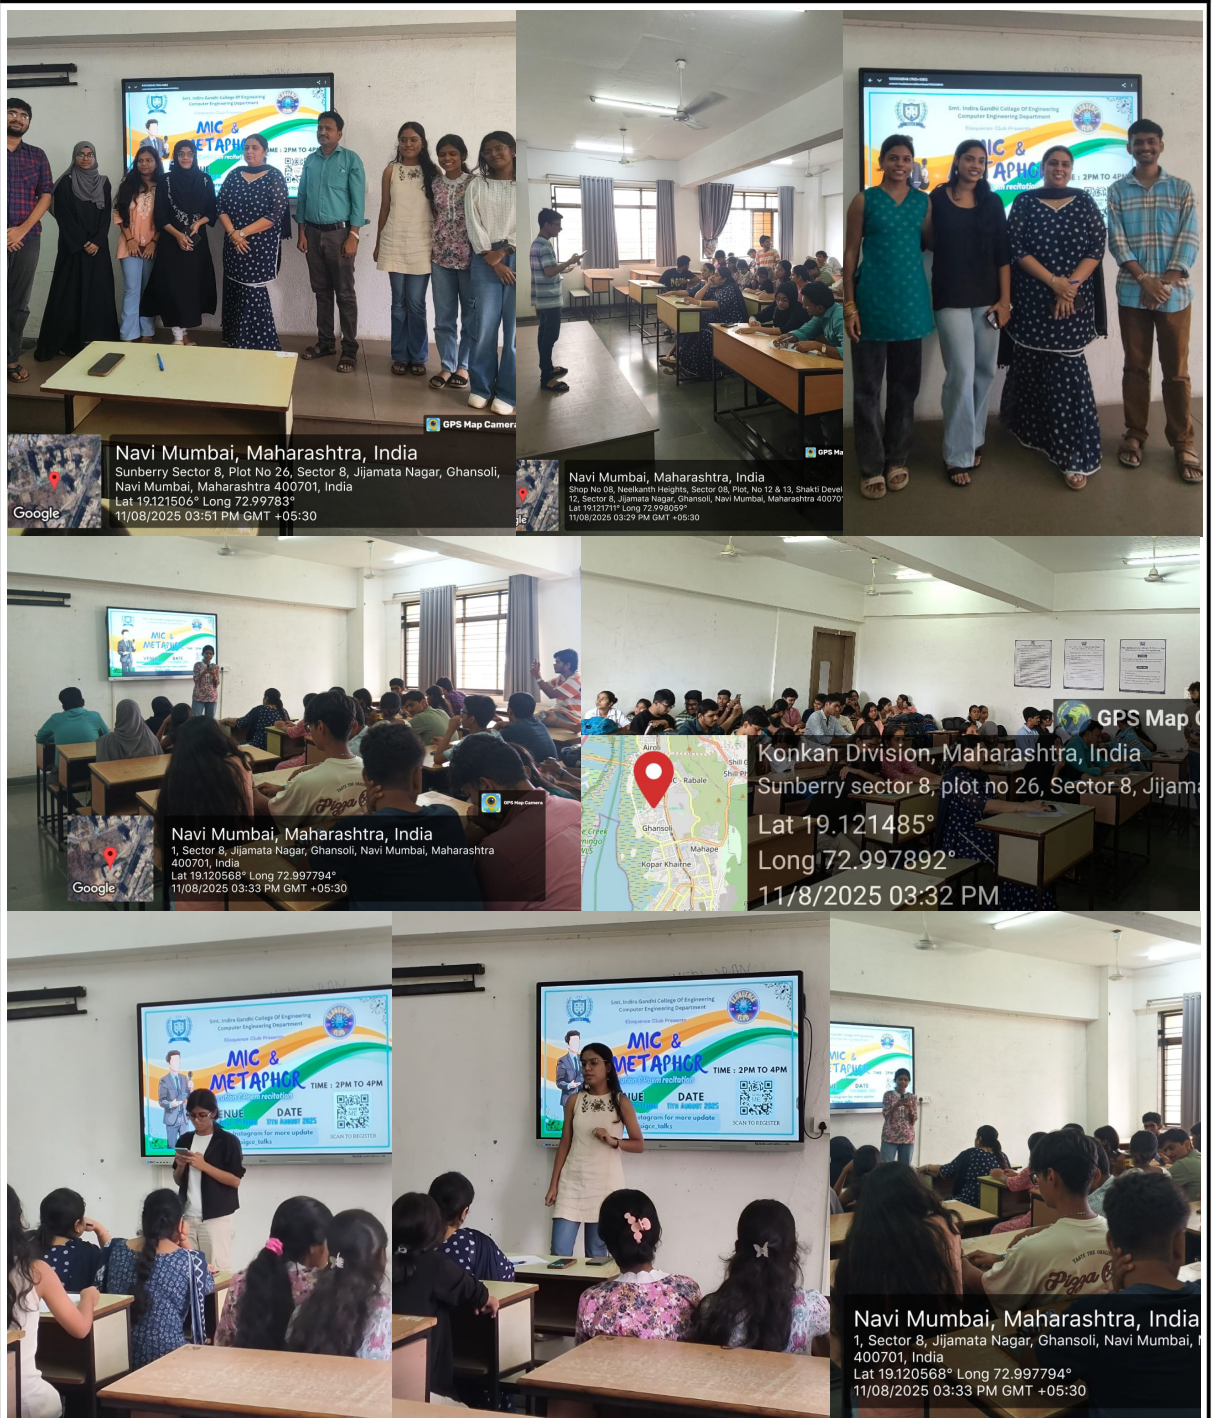

Computer Engineering Department

Activity Title	Mic & Metaphor
Date	11 August 2025
Duration	2 hours
Event	Eloquence Club
Organized by
Organizers	Muskaan Sharma and Srushti Sambare
Volunteers	Core Members of Eloquence Club
Attended By	Students of SIGCE
	• Provide a creative platform for students to showcase their talent through elocution and poetry recitation. • Encourage the development of public speaking skills and enhance participants' ability to communicate ideas effectively. • Promote creativity, originality, and literary expression among students. • Foster confidence, stage presence, and self-expression through live performances. • Enhance participants' skills in voice modulation, clarity, and emotional delivery. • Engage the audience in an interactive and inspiring cultural experience. • Recognize and appreciate the efforts of participants through certificates and prizes. • Provide a platform for healthy competition and peer-to-peer learning. • Collect and analyze feedback from both participants and audience members to identify areas for improvement in future events. • Build a vibrant community within the college that values art, culture, and communication skills.

Topics:	1. Elocution: • The Paradox of Freedom: Are we truly Free • स्वातंत्र्य मिळालं... पण माणुसकी हरवली ? • Freedoms Unfinished fight • What does freedom mean to me today? • Not all soldiers wear uniforms some carry tools , pens, and dreams • Any other topic related to Independence Day 2. Poetry
Summary:	The Eloquence Club successfully conducted the Mic & Metaphor event on August 11, 2025, featuring two engaging activities – Elocution and Poetry Recitation. The elocution segment provided a platform for participants to showcase their speaking skills, pushing their intellectual boundaries by presenting compelling arguments with clarity and confidence. The event attracted an enthusiastic audience, and the energy and engagement were evident throughout the speeches. The poetry recitation segment brought creativity and emotions to the forefront, with participants delivering heartfelt and expressive poems on various themes. The atmosphere was filled with appreciation for the beauty of words and performance. The overall feedback from participants, audience members, and faculty was overwhelmingly positive, underscoring the success of the event. Participants expressed their enjoyment and excitement, with many suggesting similar events in the future. A special highlight was when Jaspreet Ma'am recited a poetry piece on Independence, which was deeply appreciated by everyone for its heartfelt delivery and perfect expression.

Code	Programe Outcome
PO8	• Ethics Apply ethical principles and commit to professional ethics and responsibilities and norms of engineering practice.
PO9	• Individual and Team Work Function effectively as an individual and as a member or leader in diverse teams and in multidisciplinary settings.
PO10	• Communication Communicate effectively on complex engineering activities with the engineering community and with society at large; write effective reports, design documentation, make presentations, and give/receive clear instructions.
PO12	• Life-long Learning Recognize the need for, and have the preparation and ability to engage in, independent and life-long learning in the broadest context of technological change.

Photos:

Feedback

The event received excellent feedback from participants, judges. Many appreciated the opportunity to perform and suggested hosting similar events more frequently. The positive energy and enthusiasm among participants were a testament to the event's impact on confidence and creativity.